Fractured Fairy Tale Photo Contest

RULES:
- Take 1 photo per category
- Need to submit 12 photos to be considered
- Use your own interpretation of each statement
- Submit photos to Miss Kris by email at kdelabioemclinc.org by Aug. 10
- Prizes will be awarded the week of Aug. 17

Example: Everyday item repurposed - Tea cup turned into a bird feeder

Cleaning tool for Cinderella
Mermaid’s playground
Pet carrier for Toto
Gardening tool for Jack
Coach for Cinderella
Candy storage for Hansel and Gretel
Tower for Rapunzel
Something that is never wrong
Something to make a trail
Everyday item repurposed

Things in the wolf’s stomach
Unusual Pets
Castle for Cinderella
House for a pig
Tool belt for the 7 dwarfs
Unusual place to take a nap
Shoe holder for the shoemaker
Something that is easily tricked
A giant’s bed
Something with inner beauty

For more information, visit www.freelibraryofspringfieldtownship.org

Teen zine
A Teen Magazine

Volume 4
Issue 1

Darkwood by M.E. Breen review written by Ursula A.

This book is about a young girl named Annie who escapes the clutches of vile people who are using men and children to hunt for valuable ringstone. As Annie travels to the palace to tell the king about the ringstone mining, she meets friendly people willing to help. Once at the palace she finds long lost family. Meanwhile secrets are slowly being revealed. The so called Kinderstalk may not be so evil. Maybe it’s humans. This is a wonderful adventure book that doesn’t get caught up in romance like so many other books do these days (not to say that those kinds of books are bad!). I’d recommend it to everyone.

Five stars! ★★★★★

Summer Reading 2020
Sign up from the website www.freelibraryofspringfieldtownship.org
Teen page

Don’t forget to sign up!
Solitary by Eilis A.
Solitary sits on the dock
Quiet on her left, Peace the right Waves giggle 'round the trio laughing merrily at the sky
Clouds dance in the ceiling combing, dividing, allying, defecting
Seagulls spy for fish
calling for reinforcements
Light arcs over the merry sparkling multicolored rays
Boats cut through the waves white specks seeking the open evading bobs of buoys
reveling in salty winds Triangle noses briefly emerge curious eyes scan waves and sky one second, two and three four then disappear to down below
Solitary, Quiet, and Peace sit Serenity now in their midst
Company approaches the four Joy, Laughter. Conversation too with Love and Life looking on the original three evolved to ten turned to nine quite instantly
Solitary retreating away

Rebus Puzzles

FAST
MORAL DOOR
ROADS
BREED
O_ER_T_O_
NEAFRIENDED
STA4NCE
AGED AGED AGED
YOUR TIME
TRAVERL
CCCCCCC
MARY
MARY
GIVE GIVE GIVE GET GET GET
BELT
HITTING

Answers on the previous page